

ARTICLE 1 – CONSIDERATIONS

1.1 KOLIBRI SYSTEMS provides Software and Hardware for control rooms that utilize (mobile) communication systems. The Software provides a.o. a computer interface (though not only) in order to communicate with mobile communication systems and provides applications that plot the positions of devices using GPS technology on a map. ARTICLE 3 – APPLICABILITY

3.1 These general conditions are a part of and apply to all agreements and other relationships between KOLIBRI SYSTEMS and the Contracting Party with respect to the service or the product, unless otherwise expressly indicated by KOLIBRI

SYSTEMS or otherwise agreed in writing between the parties.

3.2 These general conditions take the place of (any) previous general conditions.

3.3 Appeal to a departure from these general conditions can only be made by the Contracting Party if the departure is agreed to between the parties in writing.

3.4 All quotations and prices given by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS are free of obligation.

3.5 An Offer is a price quotation for a specific End Customer and combination of Products and is only valid when signed by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS and is non-binding unless the Contracting Party accepts the offer by co-signing the document and returning it to KOLIBRI SYSTEMS within a month, unless other conditions or terms are stated in the offer.

3.6 In all cases in which an agreement with the Contracting Party ends, these general conditions continue to govern the relations between the parties in so far as this is necessary for the completion thereof.

3.7 KOLIBRI SYSTEMS has the right to change these general conditions. Changes will be announced in writing and/or by e-mail and shall take effect 30 (thirty) days after this announcement.

3.8 KOLIBRI SYSTEMS reserves the right to refuse orders without stating a reason for such refusal or to require payment in advance.

ARTICLE 4 – REALISATION OF AGREEMENTS

4.1 An agreement is only concluded by the written confirmation of the Contracting Party’s order by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS.

4.2 Additions to and changes of the agreement by the Contracting Party are binding on KOLIBRI SYSTEMS only in so far as they have been confirmed in writing by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS.

ARTICLE 5 – SOFTWARE AND LICENSES

5.1 The property rights and all other rights of intellectual property with respect to the Software, Hardware and Products and the underlying source codes are held by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS. To protect these property rights, the Contracting Party shall endorse the “KOLIBRI SYSTEMS’ user rights and conditions” (Appendix A) and ensure that the End Customer endorses these conditions or replacement conditions of an equal or stricter nature. A copy of the contract concerned shall be made available to KOLIBRI SYSTEMS on request.

5.2 The Contracting Party has the right to transfer a nonexclusive and non-transferable license to the End Customer for the use of the Software of KOLIBRI SYSTEMS, in accordance with these license conditions. In this situation, the End Customer acquires the rights that were granted to the Contracting Party according to these conditions for the use of the Software. The Contracting Party loses its rights as a result of this transfer.

5.3 Release Upgrades, Software Updates and Service Packs shall only be installed after KOLIBRI SYSTEMS has given permission for such, irrespective of whether the method of granting a license provides the possibility for such.

5.4 License rights are registered in the name of the End Customer who is the owner of the installation and in the name of the location in which the installation is located. For this purpose, the location of the installation, the owner and the contact person are registered with KOLIBRI SYSTEMS. The End Customer can be, but is not required to be, the Contracting Party.

5.5 All Products that are not registered in the name of the End Customer are considered to be located at the location of the Contracting Party. As soon as they are installed at the premises of an End Customer, the Contracting Party should ensure the End Customer’s registration with KOLIBRI SYSTEMS.

ARTICLE 6 – USE OF MAP MATERIAL

6.1 The Contracting Party and End Customer are free to use their own map material or the map material of third parties.

6.2 If the Contracting Party uses map material that was not purchased via KOLIBRI SYSTEMS, then it declares that it has (acquired) the rights to use the map material within KOLIBRI SYSTEMS products. Contracting Party agrees to remain responsible for these rights, also in the event that the map material has been converted (by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS) into a special map format to be used for the Product. In the event of a conversion Contracting Party declares that it has (gained) the right to convert the original map data into the format that is used by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS. KOLIBRI SYSTEMS is in no way responsible and/or liable for the correct use or display of this map material.

6.3 If map material is purchased via KOLIBRI SYSTEMS from NAVTEQ Europe B.V. or TeleAtlas, then the “End User Terms” as shown in Appendix E for NAVTEQ Europe B.V. or Appendix F for TeleAtlas apply. NAVTEQ Europe B.V. (NAVTEQ) and TeleAtlas hold the copyrights on their respective map material, which is supplied to Kolibri Systems B.V. (Kolibri) by Geoscape Europe B.V..

6.4 To protect the copyrights of NAVTEQ or TELATLAS, the Contracting Party shall endorse the “End User Terms” (Appendix E for NAVTEQ maps or F for TELEATLAS maps) and ensure that any End Customer also endorses these terms or replacement conditions of an equal or stricter nature. The copy of the contract concerned shall be made available to KOLIBRI SYSTEMS on request.

6.5 Appendices E and F including all the articles and conditions as described therein only apply for the map data as provided by NAVTEQ (Appendix E) and/or TELEATLAS (Appendix F).

6.6 In the event that Appendix F applies, then the following additional terms apply:

- The mentioned Exhibit 2, is replaced by the license rights from KOLIBRI that give access to the map material- modified to KOLIBRI specific format in relation to the rights as purchased by the Contracting Party

- Appendix F - Article 2 does only apply to the original source data of TeleAtlas. The KOLIBRI format converted map material can be installed on the systems of the End Customer
- Appendix F – Articles 4.2 and 4.3 do not apply. KOLIBRI SYSTEMS will take the conversion risk in case the offer was conducted in other currency than the Euro.

6.7 If map material is supplied by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS, the Contracting Party shall not install or use the map material in any manner other than in combination with the ordered Product and shall not make more copies than are covered by the number of licenses purchased from KOLIBRI SYSTEMS, with the exception of an extra copy for its own service department in order to support the End Customer.

6.8 KOLIBRI SYSTEMS supplies the maps as supplied by NAVTEQ or TELEATLAS to Geoscape. Both NAVTEQ and TELEATLAS make updates and revisions very regularly, at least once a year. If no new version of the map material is supplied by NAVTEQ or TELEATLAS, or KOLIBRI cannot source NAVTEQ or TELEATLAS material, then KOLIBRI SYSTEMS is not liable for this, however shall not charge for an Update or credit this if it has already been charged.

ARTICLE 7 – DELIVERY

7.1 Each order should be confirmed separately by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS as accepted. Through this written confirmation, the delivery period for the Products to be supplied is confirmed.

7.2 Products are delivered to the address of the Contracting Party that places the order for the Products with KOLIBRI SYSTEMS.

7.3 Delivery takes place ex warehouse. At the moment of delivery, all the risks of loss, decay, damages, etc., regardless of the cause, shall be borne by the Contracting Party. KOLIBRI SYSTEMS is not responsible for any delay in delivery, loss or extra costs resulting from the transport of the Products, Software or Hardware.

7.4 If the confirmed delivery time cannot be realized, KOLIBRI SYSTEMS shall inform the Contracting Party of this as soon as possible but no later than one week after the delay is known by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS

7.5 The Contracting Party is required to check the quality of the Products supplied and to inform KOLIBRI SYSTEMS immediately on delivery of any suspected defects in the Products delivered.

7.6 Irrespective of the transport method and the Products or additional project work that has been ordered, the Product is (the Products are) considered to have been delivered, when the Contracting Party or End-Customer has received, or when KOLIBRI SYSTEMS has done everything within its possibilities that the Contracting Party could have received, the license keys (being a string of characters or a hardware dongle) which give access to the Products.

7.7 Contracting Party can request to execute a FAT, for which extra costs will be charged. In the case of a FAT, the moment of delivery remains the moment stated in article 7.6, irrespective of the outcome of the FAT. However the non-passing of a FAT can be a reason for the Contracting Party not to accept the license keys.

7.8 A FAT is only not passed positively, when a major fault has been observed during the test and under the agreed system conditions. A major fault is a fault that does block the End- Customer from making use of the described functionality or results in disturbance of the customer's key processes and applies only for functionality that was not officially Released yet.

7.9 In the case of a major fault, a new FAT date will be agreed, that will take place no later than 8 weeks after the date on which the FAT took place. During this new FAT (re-FAT) only those functionalities that were not accepted in the previous FAT's will be retested.

7.10 Any change requests, based on the FAT, after the license keys have been accepted by the Contracting Party, will be considered under the normal warranty conditions.

7.11 If not further specified or agreed, the FAT is conducted at the premises of KOLIBRI SYSTEMS, using the equipment that is available at KOLIBRI SYSTEMS' premises and using the product user manual as test-script.

ARTICLE 8 – INVOICING AND PAYMENT

8.1 Unless agreed otherwise in writing, payment for the delivered Products should be made by the Contracting Party through a deposit into or a transfer to a bank or giro account designated by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS within 30 days after the invoice date. If it concerns a part of the order, only that part that was delivered shall be invoiced. The Contracting Party is not permitted to deduct or defer payment for any reason.

8.2 Contracts with multiple periods (e.g. Annual License Renewal contract) shall be invoiced for each period at the start of the period (at least once a year).

8.3 If the Contracting Party has not ensured payment within the payment term as in Article 8.1, then KOLIBRI SYSTEMS shall grant the Contracting Party an extended period for payment. If payment is not made within this period, then the Contracting Party is in default of payment without requiring notice of default and shall owe interest of 1.5% a month. Payment should be made by the Contracting Party without granting the Contracting Party the right to appeal to deduction, discount or compensation.

8.4 In the event of Article 8.3 for previous orders, advance payment may be requested before delivery is made.

8.5 If the Contracting Party is in default or if he falls short in another imputable manner in complying with one or more obligations ensuing from the agreement or these general conditions, then, without prejudice to consequences that the law attaches to such default/shortcoming, all extra-judicial and judicial costs, as well as the costs of legal assistance, shall be borne by the Contracting Party. If KOLIBRI SYSTEMS can present a reasonable case that it has incurred extra costs, these costs should also be reimbursed by the client.

ARTICLE 9 – RETENTION OF TITLE

9.1 All Products delivered to the Contracting Party remain the property of KOLIBRI SYSTEMS until the moment that all amounts are fully paid, including any interest and costs that the Contracting Party owes for the Products delivered or to be delivered or services performed or to be performed by virtue of the agreement, as well as in the matter of claims resulting from a failure to comply with the said agreement.

9.2 The Contracting Party is required to ensure the Products are handled carefully and does not have the right, except after receiving written permission from KOLIBRI SYSTEMS, to encumber and/or use as collateral and/or to establish an (undisclosed) right of pledge on the delivered Products, as long as the Contracting Party has not fully met his obligations towards KOLIBRI SYSTEMS.

9.3 If KOLIBRI SYSTEMS dissolves the order fully or partially, it is entitled to take back the unpaid part of the Products delivered. Dissolution and/or repossession does not impede the right of KOLIBRI SYSTEMS to compensation for damages.

ARTICLE 10 – SOFTWARE LICENSE RENEWAL AND SUPPORT

10.1 The Contracting Party is aware that no Software (development) is 100% bug- or fault-free. KOLIBRI SYSTEMS will do everything within its power to prevent or to rectify bugs, as is the usual practice in Software Development for large systems.

10.2 Within the first year starting the first of the calendar month in which the Product has been delivered (warranty period) KOLIBRI SYSTEMS shall supply Software Service Packs in order to fix bugs and provide small functional updates, deliver newly available Software Releases and provide the Contracting Party with Third-line Support for trouble-shooting for the End Customer concerned, all of this as described in Appendices B and C.

10.3 If the Products provided by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS were sourced by KOLIBRI SYSTEM from an external supplier, the warranty is limited to the applicable warranty conditions of that supplier. KOLIBRI SYSTEMS shall inform the Contracting Party concerning the applicable provisions.

10.4 Following a warranty period of one year, which started on the first of the calendar month in which the Products were delivered, all rights to new Software Updates Release Upgrades and Third-line Support expire, irrespective of whether the Contracting Party or the End Customer was able to test the software sufficiently.

10.5 When purchasing a Software License Renewal contract, the right to Software Updates, is continued as stated in Appendices B and C.

10.6 If the Service License Renewal contract is concluded within the warranty period as stated in article 10.2, then the Service Contract shall take effect at the end of the Warranty Period and has a minimum contract life of one year.

10.7 After each contract period, the Service License Renewal contract is automatically renewed for one year if it has not been cancelled three months before the expiry date.

10.8 If no Software License Renewal contract applies, it cannot be concluded until after the upgrade of the Software to the last available Release. A separate Release Upgrade must be purchased for this.

10.9 System Expansions can only be purchased during (a) warranty period, or (b) when a Software License Renewal contract is in place or (c) when a Release Upgrade is purchased at the same moment.

10.10 For System Expansions, the same one year warranty as stated in article 10.2 applies.

10.11 Contracting Party agrees that, when a Software License Renewal contract is in place, any Systems Expansions will automatically be added to the Software License Renewal contract, under the same conditions and contract termination date, adding the applicable annual fee for the System Expansion to the contract as of the expiration of the warranty period.

10.12 The meeting of its warranty obligations, as stated in Articles 10.2 and 11.1, by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS is the only possible and the general compensation given for damages. KOLIBRI SYSTEMS is not bound by any additional obligations, nor is the Contracting Party entitled to demand the dissolution of the agreement.

ARTICLE 11 – HARDWARE WARRANTY AND MAINTENANCE

11.1 The Hardware supplied and developed by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS has a warranty period of one year.

11.2 Replacement of hardware components supplied by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS falls under the warranty, provided the substandard functioning of these components is the fault of production and/or design defects in the Software or Hardware.

11.3 After the end of the warranty period, a Hardware maintenance contract (Appendix D) can be concluded for at least three years. If this contract is concluded within 3 months following delivery of the system, the period shall be at least two years after the end of the warranty period. This contract can only be concluded if a Software License Renewal contract is also concluded.

11.4 Contracting Party agrees that, when a Hardware Maintenance contract is in place, any Hardware Systems Expansions will automatically be added to this Hardware Maintenance contract, under the same conditions and contract termination date, adding the applicable annual fee for the System Expansion to the contract as of the expiration of the warranty period.

ARTICLE 12 – CHARGES

12.1 KOLIBRI SYSTEMS publishes a Recommended Price List every year. If the Contracting Party is given a discount on these prices, this discount will be confirmed by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS separately in writing.

12.2 Discounts do not always apply to all Products. Products to which the discount does not apply are listed separately on the price list.

12.3 KOLIBRI SYSTEMS reserves the right to issue separate project-linked prices that shall be valid for a separately named period.

12.4 The Recommended Price List is valid for at least one year, but in any case until the moment that a new price list is communicated. Any price changes shall be announced at least 3 months in advance, at which time the Contracting Party will be asked to announce all then-outstanding quotations. They can then be confirmed in a separate “project agreement”.

12.5 All Software License Renewal and Hardware Maintenance contracts and any annually due licensing fees are indexed annually. These rates are revised on 1 January of each year through the application of the following indexation formula:

$P1 = P0 * (S1/S0)$, in which:

- P1 = new revised price
- P0 = previous price
- S1 = Consumer Price Index (CPI) for all households as published by the CBS, published for the month of November of the previous year or, if it is not published by 1 January of the following year, for the last published month.
- S0= CPI of the same month of the year that precedes the previous year.
- If S1 is less than S0, then S1 shall be made equal to S0. If the CBS does not publish the CPI any longer, a comparable subsequent index shall be used.

12.6 No indexation will take place if on the first indexation date the contract was concluded within the 6 preceding months.

ARTICLE 13 – LIABILITY

KOLIBRI SYSTEMS is not liable for damages of any nature, including the loss of profits, consequential loss and loss suffered by third parties (customers), unless the damages are the result of gross negligence or intention on the part of KOLIBRI SYSTEMS. Any liability of KOLIBRI SYSTEMS is, in any case, limited to the value of the Products and services delivered.

ARTICLE 14 – CONCLUDING PROVISIONS

14.1 KOLIBRI SYSTEMS considers itself entitled to name the Contracting Party publicly as a reference (Company name, Logo) as soon as delivery is made to the Contracting Party. KOLIBRI SYSTEMS is entitled to name the End Customer publicly as a reference (Company name, Logo), after confirmation by the Contracting Party and after implementation at the End Customer’s site. Information concerning the number of users and control room positions, contract life and value is considered to be confidential between the parties to the contract and shall therefore not be publicly communicated.

14.2 Each agreement concluded between KOLIBRI SYSTEMS and the Contracting Party is subject to Dutch law. Disputes arising between KOLIBRI SYSTEMS and the Contracting Party that ensue from or are connected with the agreement concluded by the parties or these general conditions shall be brought before the competent court in The Hague, the Netherlands.

14.3 If a provision in these general conditions or in any agreement proves to be invalid, this fact shall not affect the validity of the general conditions/agreement as a whole. The parties shall establish (a) new provision(s) as a replacement which reflects the meaning of the original agreement as much as legally possible.

Appendix A – KOLIBRI SYSTEMS' Software user's rights and conditions

A.1 The property rights and all other rights of intellectual property concerning the Software, Hardware and Products and the underlying source codes are held by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS. The Contracting Party shall not remove nor change any distinguishing marks related to the intellectual property rights of KOLIBRI SYSTEMS.

A.2 The Contracting Party acquires the rights to use (parts of) the Software of KOLIBRI SYSTEMS. The rights are limited to those Products or product components and numbers that are agreed to in writing. Restrictions include, but are not limited to: the number of Consoles that may be connected; the number of Items applied for a Product or application; the number of Servers on which the Product may be installed.

A.5 Irrespective of the method by which the rights are granted and the limitations and/or possibilities thereof, the rights that this Contracting Party has are restricted to those components of the Software, with associated limitation in numbers, that it has received from KOLIBRI SYSTEMS in writing. If the method by which rights are granted grants more rights, the Contracting Party shall refrain from using them.

A.7 If license rights have been transgressed, a charge can be made for at least the license fee per item according to the list price before discount, without the prejudice to recover from the Contracting Party actual loss incurred.

A.8 The Contracting Party shall refrain from copying Releases and Software, except for the purpose of maintenance within his own systems.

Copies or originals shall only be provided to third parties (End Customers) if the licenses concerned, purchased from KOLIBRI SYSTEMS, are supplied with them.

A.9 In the case of non-payment, the termination of agreements or rights, on the other hand, the right to use the Software shall cease and the Contracting Party shall refrain from using it.

A.10 The Contracting Party shall cooperate in combating the misuse of the license rights (by making available logs / reports).

A.11 The Contracting Party does not have the right to:

- i. change, revise or copy the Software or to incorporate it in other Software. This also applies to the associated documentation and explanations

B.2 KOLIBRI SYSTEMS shall, to the best of its ability, rectify defects and/or replace Products at the discretion and judgment of KOLIBRI SYSTEMS. Recovery of lost data is not guaranteed.

B.3 Third-line Support is only provided to technical personnel of the Contracting Party that provide Second-line Support, have sufficient IT/IP knowledge, have oversight over the entire installation at the End Customer's, with sufficient knowledge to assess which of the possible components is causing a malfunction. The persons that provide second-line support are appointed by the Contracting Party in advance and are trained by or assessed by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS as being sufficiently capable (capabilities similar to BSc level of expertise).

B.4 KOLIBRI SYSTEMS shall provide training opportunities (for a fee), which shall be executed in Delft (the Netherlands) in English. The personnel to be trained will be expected to possess basic knowledge of IT systems and IP solutions.

B.5 Third-line Support is always handled electronically (by email) and only on workdays between 9:00 and 17:00 (local time in the Netherlands). Depending on the urgency, the support can be provided by telephone.

B.6 If KOLIBRI SYSTEMS is called on, though the cause of the problem has not been identified in the Products of KOLIBRI SYSTEMS, costs can be charged at a rate of € 100 an hour. If the malfunction is reported via e-mail by the personnel referred to in Article C.3 and the log files of the system concerned have been sent with the report, extra costs will never be charged.

B.7 The support does not apply if the malfunctions are entirely or partially the result of incorrect, careless or incompetent use, use for anything other than normal (company) objectives.

B.8 Visits to the End Customer's location shall always be charged when they occur at the request of the Contracting Party. Visits shall be charged at a rate of €100 per hour, including travel time, excluding possible abnormal delays. Traveling costs will be charged separately (€0.27 per km if within driving distance of KOLIBRI SYSTEMS).

B.9 In the event of any malfunctions, the Contracting Party shall cooperate with the implementation of "workarounds", which might impede the work processes of the End Customer to a limited degree.

B.10 KOLIBRI SYSTEMS has the right to inspect installations for correct installation. The Contracting Party and the Installation and/or location owners shall cooperate with this inspection. Following the inspection of an installation, KOLIBRI SYSTEMS has the right to suspend, terminate or deny the remaining Warranty and the Software License Renewal contract if the incorrect manner of installation, the hardware used, etc., gives it reason for such.

B.11 The Response Times are provided for Third-line Support.

Type of malfunction	Manner of reporting	Manner of answering	Response time (1)	Bug fixes (2)
A. Communication from and with the control room cannot take place in any manner due to the Kolibri application	By telephone	By telephone + confirmation by e-mail	Customer is called back within two hours by the technical personnel (3)	New Service Pack – within 4 work-weeks or, if malfunction can be limited by means of a "work-around", within 8 work-weeks

The e-mail address for reporting malfunctions is: ccsupport@kolibri-systems.com.

Appendix C – SOFTWARE LICENSE RENEWAL

C.1 Within a Software License Renewal contract, the Contracting Party gains access to available Service Packs and/or Release Updates for its relevant End Customer and related purchased Product licenses.

C.2 Outside the Warranty or a Service License Renewal contract, individual Release Upgrades cost 35% of the published List Price, taking into consideration any valid discounts. A Warranty of four months following delivery applies to Release Upgrades.

C.3 Both Service Packs and Release Upgrades are made available electronically at the request of the Contracting Party.

C.4 The Contracting Party should keep abreast of any availability of Service Packs and new Releases. They shall be announced to the e-mail addresses known to KOLIBRI SYSTEMS and on the website (www.kolibri-systems.com).

C.5 The Contracting Party should take responsibility for the installation of the Service Packs and Software Updates on the relevant installations of the End Customer.

C.6 For the installation of Service Packs and/or Software Updates, it is possible that reconfiguration of the system will be necessary. This shall be done by the Contracting Party. The costs of these activities cannot be recovered from KOLIBRI SYSTEMS.

C.7 Software Releases are developed on the available hardware, with supporting operating system, specifically published by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS. KOLIBRI SYSTEMS shall ensure that Software Releases can run properly on hardware and operating system requirements published at least 3 years previously. If the Hardware and operating system are older than three years, it might mean that the hardware and operating system also need to be upgraded. This falls entirely outside the responsibility of KOLIBRI SYSTEMS.

C.8 Only hardware and operating system requirements that are currently published or were published in the past are supported by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS. A decision can be made not to support certain later versions of an operating system.

C.9 For Release Updates, possible new functions that are charged separately by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS in the marketplace and that were not a part of the original delivery can be excluded.

C.10 After installation of a Release Upgrade, the old Software licenses are cancelled. Even if they can be re-used, the Contracting Party shall ensure that they will not be used in any manner. If the licenses are released by means of a new dongle, the Contracting Party shall send the old version back to KOLIBRI SYSTEMS.

Appendix D – HARDWARE SUPPORT

D.1 Hardware support is only provided if the Warranty Period has not been exceeded or the Contracting Party has concluded a Maintenance contract.

D.2 Repairs falling outside the context of the applicable warranty or maintenance contract shall be charged by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS.

D.3 When repairing Hardware, KOLIBRI SYSTEMS is entitled to replace the Hardware with the same configuration.

D.4 The warranty and maintenance do not apply to Hardware that:

- i. is repaired or altered outside the terrain of KOLIBRI SYSTEMS;

- ii. is misplaced, poorly maintained or damaged;
- iii. is used in a manner that is not endorsed by the supplier.

In these cases, all costs shall be borne by the Contracting Party.

D.5 The warranty and maintenance contract do not apply if the malfunctions are entirely or partially the result of incorrect, careless or incompetent use, use for objectives other than normal (business) objectives, external causes such as fire or water damage or if the Products are altered by anyone other than KOLIBRI SYSTEMS.

D.6 The replacement and repair of Hardware only takes place after the Hardware is sent back to KOLIBRI SYSTEMS. KOLIBRI SYSTEMS is not liable for the period that the Hardware does not work. The Contracting Party is responsible for running the system using any necessary “spare” Hardware during this period.

D.7 The shipping costs of Products sent by the Contracting Party to KOLIBRI SYSTEMS shall be borne by the Contracting Party. The return shipment costs shall be paid by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS. The address of the Contracting Party shall be used for this purpose, not the address of the installation’s location.

D.8 For hardware a 2 (two) week return period (within 10 (ten) workdays) Service Level is adhered to. The 2-week return Guarantee is defined as follows: starting from the moment the Hardware is received by KOLIBRI SYSTEMS, KOLIBRI SYSTEMS shall hand the (repaired) Hardware over to a transporter for the return shipment to the Contracting Party within 10 workdays.

D.9 The maximum period that Hardware can be supported by means of a Maintenance Contract and Warranty is 5 (five) years from delivery. The Maintenance Contract for the hardware expires automatically 5 years after first delivery, irrespective of whether an interim extension has been granted.

Possible (de-)installation costs shall be borne by the Contracting Party. KOLIBRI SYSTEMS can reclaim this “spare” Hardware at any time, within a reasonable period, from the Contracting Party, whereby the Contracting Party is responsible for de-installing the “spare” Hardware and delivering it to the address of the intermediate supplier of KOLIBRI SYSTEMS. If this is not done, KOLIBRI SYSTEMS can charge for this system at “spare” Hardware rates.

(b) caused by the software or the System used by Licensee.

ARTICLE 8 Indemnification

8.1. In the event the authorized use or possession of the Digital Map Product(s) should infringe upon the intellectual property right of a third party, and such infringement prevents Licensee to continue use of the Digital Map Product(s), Tele Atlas shall at its own expense and discretion do any or all of the following: (a) obtain the right to continue use on behalf of Licensee; (b) modify or replace (relevant parts of the) the Digital Map Product(s) so as to avoid the infringement; (c) take

8.3. Licensee shall fully cooperate in Tele Atlas' defense of all such claims.

If Tele Atlas' limited warranty or limitation of liability set forth in this Agreement shall for any reason whatsoever be held unenforceable or inapplicable Licensee agrees that Tele Atlas' liability shall not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the license fee paid by Licensee to Tele Atlas with respect to the Digital Map Product(s) at issue.

9.3. Tele Atlas's liability shall in no event include incidental or consequential damages of any kind.

11.4. Upon termination of this Agreement no matter how occurred, Licensee shall no longer be entitled to in any way use the Digital Map Product(s).
